New York, January 13.—Tentative agreement to the details of a 50,000,000 merger of southeastern public utilities companies was arrived at in conference here today of representatives of the Georgia Railway and Power company. The combination has been in negotiation for many weeks, and was brought to a head here about a week ago.

The companies involved are the Georgia Railway and Power company and the Southeastern Power and Light company. The plan calls for exchange of stock under which arrangement, it is understood, each share of Georgia Railway common will receive one share of Southeastern common, $25 in cash and one and three-tenths shares of participating preferred stock on which dividends could begin at 4 per cent and increase to a 7 per cent maximum.

No details of the transaction have yet been announced formally and it was said today at the Southeastern Power and Light company offices that it was not expected a formal announcement would be made before Friday, January 15.

Conferences Continue.
Consolidation conferences will be continued here tomorrow and in the meantime banking interests have proceeded on their knowledge that completion of the negotiations is assured. Little more cash is involved than the $6,000,000 necessary for the cash payments to the holders of the $25,000,000 Georgia Railway $100 par common stock outstanding, according to the best information available. Captain W. G. All roads reported in bad condition, said Captain Roper, have now been repaired and are in such good condition that they are not bad enough to distract tourists to make the wide detours away from this section of the state, which hundreds have been doing in recent weeks.

A 3,000-yard stretch of road near Newkirk, which has been described as the worst of all, has now been planked over and is in excellent condition, according to Captain Roper, and there is no longer any necessity for tourists to avoid this route by any detours.

SWANN HALL SLATED FOR CLASS ROOMS

$15,000 Voted for Conversion; Similar Sum To Be Used in Completing Mechanical Building.

Erection of the first unit of a new series of dormitory buildings at Georgia Tech, the first building to cost $100,000 and to be completed by September 1, was authorized at the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees at that institution Wednesday. Other improvements were authorized, including the conversion of the Swann dormitory into a classroom to house the Tech School of Commerce and other departments. Money for the improvement will come from the Greater Georgia Tech fund.

The first unit of the new dormitory will be built on the east side of Techwood drive and will overlook Grant field toward the west. It will be constructed of red brick and stone in the same style of architecture as the Julius Brown Memorial hall, which it adjoins on the north. It will be three stories in height and will provide accommodation for 150 students.

Under plans for the series of dormitories, there will be five units, four of them dormitories and one a dining room. These four units will be built in the square bounded on the west by Techwood drive, on the north by Tech property and on the east by Williams street. This will form one quadrangle in the square, and Tech property to the north now unoccupied forms a second square leaving room for construction of a second series of dormitories or other buildings forming a second quadrangle.

Improvements costing $15,000 will be made in Swann hall, and $15,000 will be spent in completing the mechanical building now used as an engineering school. The School of Commerce now occupies quarters in an Atlanta office building.

The mechanical building, which is one of the finest structures at Tech, will be completed throughout. Much of the building was left uncompleted, but the $15,000 will put the structure in shape for full service.

The new dormitory unit, which will be built at once, will be similar to four other structures to be built later on the same plan and of the same size. They will be located so that a dining room building in the center will connect all of them. The series of dormitories will be known as "Harris hall," in honor of former Governor Nat E. Harris, chairman of the board of trustees.

Plans for the buildings were drawn by Dr. Harold Bush-Brown, head of the department of architecture, and Kenneth Stowell, his associate. The plans were submitted to the trustees Wednesday and were approved.

Members of the board were present at the meeting Wednesday evening. Chairman Harris, John W. Grant, chairman of the executive committee, and Eugene R. Black, Clark Five judges of Fulton county courts Wednesday were voted salary increases of $2,000 annually effective February 1, at a meeting of Fulton county commissioners—thus raising their salaries from $10,000 to $12,000 annually. The state pays $5,000 of that amount and the county the remainder.

In addition to raising salaries of superior court judges, the commission heard petitions for many new projects, which included new paving, extension of sewerage and other improvements.

Practically all the measures were referred to committees for reports to be made to the board at later meetings.

Commissioner Virlyn B. Moore asked to be excused from voting on the proposal to raise the pay of judges.

Delegations from the Atlanta Lawyers' club and from the Atlanta Bar association appeared before the commission asking the increase.

Judges affected are W. D. Ellis, George L. Bell, John D. Humphries, E. D. Thomas and G. H. Howard.

Club Proposal Adopted.

The commission passed a proposal that the county assist the Burns club to install a connection with the city sewerage system. The chairman of the board, together with a committee, is to investigate a proposal of the Georgia Railway and Power company to extend power and electric lines to the Fulton county convict camp and the Industrial Home for Girls. This is to be cost the county $5,000.

A delegation from the local P. T. A. appeared before the board asking appropriation of $1,500 for entertainment of the national and state organizations which meet here the first week in May. The board ruled that no funds will be devoted to convention entertainments of any kind during 1926.

Councilman Frank Galloway and a delegation of citizens joined in a plea for paving of Allene avenue from Murphy to Bell avenue. Councilman Moody Stevens of Howell Hill, a resident of Hapeville, both these petitions were referred to Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the public works committee.

To Pave Marietta Road.

The commission voted to pave Marietta road from Howell Mill road to Inman yards with concrete and Woodward avenue from Peachtree Hill avenue to Montgomery avenue with asphalt.

These projects will be begun soon, the commission said.

Edwin K. Large, postmaster, asked the commission to cooperate with postal authorities in expediting delivery of mails by eliminating duplication of names of street and roads. Henry M. Wood, clerk, was authorized to ask Mr. Large to name the duplications in order that they could be done away with.

Candler field, Atlanta's air port, was exempted from taxation on recommendation of County Attorney Charles Sheldon. Mr. Sheldon will rule on the right of the board to exempt clubs and other organizations from taxation.

Planes for the buildings were drawn by Dr. Harold Bush-Brown, head of the department of architecture, and Kenneth Stowell, his associate. The plans were submitted to the trustees Wednesday and were approved.

C. R. Harvey, of Fairburn, Given Year on Charges Growing Out Of Bank Failure.

Decatur, Ga., January 13.—C. R. Harvey, former president of the Bank of Campbell county, of Fairburn, was convicted here today on charges growing out of the failure of the bank in April, 1924, and was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary. Notice of appeal was filed and March 13 was set by Judge C. E. Roop as the date he will hear the appeal at Carrollton. He was released on a bond of $2,000.

The case was brought to the DeKalb court from Campbell county and has been on trial since Monday, a special term of court being called to hear the case. This was the second trial here of Harvey, a mistrial having been declared at a former term of court.

The jury was out about three hours, receiving the case at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and returning a verdict at 4:30. The jury's recommendation that the case be treated as a misdemeanor was disregarded by the trial judge in giving a prison term instead of a fine.

Employment of substitutes by cafe owners to take the punishment for prohibition law violations was hit in orders issued today by enforcement officers. It was found that owners of road houses and cafes point out bartenders or other employees as the owners of the places when raiders appear. In the future evidence will not be considered complete until the identity of the owner is known.

Chicago, January 13.—Federal Judge Wilkerson announced today that in the future jail sentences will be imposed on violators of the dry law, even when they plead guilty.

The time has come when nothing but jail sentences will curb violations," Judge Wilkerson said. "The imposition of a fine is merely a lesson to stay in business."

Boston, Mass., January 13.—James J. Corbett, speaking in all seriousness to an overflow audience at Keith's theater here today, paid an unprecedented tribute to Young Stribling, and declared that neither Jack Dempsey nor any other modern fighter could defeat the young gentleman from Georgia.

"You have everything in your favor and there is no reason why you should not reach that goal—no reason whatever. To be perfectly frank, you have surprised me, but now that I have seen you and tested you—I know."

Stribling, to whom the tribute came as a distinct surprise, was deeply moved as the former champion spoke. At one point tears glistened in his eyes while his bride wept, quite unashamed. Later "Gentleman Jim" asked Mrs. Stribling what her impressions of boxing were. She answered:

"I approve boxing the way my husband does it. I enthuse over it when he is in the ring. I do not think that boxing is any more brutal than football or any of the other sports. I intend to see all of my husband's bouts and am confident that he will be champion of the world some day."

Corbett then said: "My little woman, I am proud of you. You are just the kind of wife who will help your husband to win the world title and millions."

Washington, January 13.—(By the United News.)—Department of agriculture economists have figured the average yearly income of a farmer for the last crop year was $510 plus home-grown food valued at $336. The average investment of each farmer is $5,043 and his earnings represent interest on that, wages for himself, wife and children at home. Figuring the family help at average farmhand wages, the farmer comes out $184 short and no interest represented.

Washington, January 13.—In an address of great significance, political and economic, former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, speaking tonight at the dinner of delegates to the National Farmers' Cooperative Marketing conference, proclaimed the doctrine of crop surplus control for the salvation not only of agriculture, but of the very nation itself.

Almost within a stone's throw from the white house, Mr. Lowden, now frequently mentioned as a potential corn and wheat belt candidate for the republican nomination for president in 1928, enunciated the farmers' demand for a specially protected domestic market, affording profitable returns to the manufacturer probable returns.

Lowden Wildly Acclaimed.

It was the failure of President Coolidge to endorse crop surplus control in his Chicago speech that disappointed the farmers and led to the series of protest meetings in the middle west, now being referred to as the "corn belt revolt." Although the administration, following the eruption of criticism, announced that it would favor legislation to solve the surplus problem, Mr. Lowden has qualified as the leader of the movement, and was wildly acclaimed by the farm organization delegates tonight when he advocated the plan to segregate the export surplus and enhance the domestic price above the world market.

BIBB NEGRO'S TRIAL NEARING END HERE

Following an all-day trial in which state and defense attorneys repeatedly clashed over admissibility of certain evidence, the jury in the second trial of Robert Hill, negro, alleged slayer of J. W. Culpepper, in Bibb county, Wednesday afternoon was locked up for the night and Judge John D. Humphries, presiding, declared a recess until 9 o'clock this morning.

Continuation of the case probably will cause postponement of the trial of Mell Gore and Theodore Berry, indicted jointly for the killing of William H. Cheek, Peachtree road grocer, on the night of December 19, it was pointed out, as the two were to be tried today.

Hill was convicted in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court, but was given a new trial by the supreme court on technical grounds. He is alleged to have slain Culpepper and criminally attacked the dead man's companion. The case was transferred here on change of venue.

When court recessed Wednesday, prosecution witnesses were still on the stand, and it was predicted that several more would be called this morning. H. O. Stevens, special investigator of the Bibb circuit, furnished the court with details of his

BLOODWORTH, JONES PLEAS SET FOR FRIDAY

Following receipt of advices from Walker Flounoy, solicitor general of the Muscogee circuit, a special hearing has been set for Friday morning at 10 o'clock by the Georgia prison commission on pleas for commutation of death sentences imposed on Willie Jones and Gervis Bloodworth.

Jones and Bloodworth are sentenced to hang on January 29 for the murder of Horace Underwood, traveling salesman. They were refused commutation by the commission and the governor, and after hearing, but attorneys for the condemned youths hope to advance new developments in arguments for mercy.

After the commission has made its recommendations Governor Walker will hold a commutation hearing. Should he fail to commute the sentences their last hope to escape the gallows will be gone.

Whiteman Plays Jazz and Golt In City Today

Paul Whiteman, famous "jazz band" conductor, is said to be as clever with a mashie as he is with a saxophone or a baton, and several Atlanta friends expect to test him out at Druid Hills or East Lake today. Mr. Whiteman will arrive with his concert orchestra at 10 o'clock, and Russell Bridges, manager of the local engagement, has arranged a foursome in which the 300-pound musician will be one.

One of the biggest audiences of the season is expected to hear Whiteman's musicians tonight in a purely jazz program. A popular program at popular prices is expected to fill the auditorium before the curtain rises on the elaborate stage setting which Mr. Whiteman carries with him.

Hundreds of seats already have taken by out-of-town music lovers.

Several box parties have been arrangements by the Atlanta society folk.

The program, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will be devoted largely to music written especially for Paul Whiteman, or arranged for his orchestra from well-known melodies. It will include the new "Circus Day," in which every feature of the old-time one-ring circus is played by the various instruments "Mississippi," a jazz picture of early life in the imaginary "Dixie" of the song writers, and a score of rhythmic fox-trots, Charleston and other dance numbers.

GEORGIA BUILDING, LOAN HEADS PLAN ANNUAL MEETING

Frank A. Chase of Kansas City, Mo., will deliver the principal address January 19 at the annual anniversary meeting of the Georgia Building and Loan league at the Biltmore hotel.

The league is affiliated with the United States League of Building and Loan Associations which is represented by 100 state and city leagues and 20,000 associations. In building and loan activities the state of Georgia ranks 47th in the United States.

George W. West, president of the Georgia association, urges all persons interested in the activities to communicate with him in care of the First Mutual Savings association, 23 Atlanta Avenue, Atlanta, or Secretary L. N. Shaham, Jr., Citizens Building Investment company, Rome, Ga.

RICHIEY IS SPEAKER AT CREDIT MEETING

John M. Richey, of Cincinnati, manager of the adjustment bureau of the Georgia Building and Loan Credit Men, voiced ideas which have interested the Atlanta Association of Credit Men for some time when he spoke on "Distressed Merchandise" at a luncheon at the Daffodil cafe Wednesday noon.

Mr. Richey's idea is to put the merchandise of a failing business back into legitimate channels of trade, rather than through the liquidation of other businesses in the same community by throwing the goods on the market at bankrupt prices.

C. L. Williamson, secretary of the Atlanta association, said that such a project already has been undertaken by the organization here. It is hoped, he said, to have a similar work of the Atlanta credit men and those of other parts of the country, with similar bodies in the southeast.

Violin solos were rendered by Miss Anna Howe Lovejoy Harwell, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. A. B. Christie.

Council Plans Fire-Prevention Work Extension

Fire prevention and traffic regulation were chief topics of discussion at the weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Safety council Wednesday noon at the Hotel Ansley.

Special emphasis is to be laid on fire prevention during 1926. A committee consisting of W. B. Hart, chairman; W. B. Cody, vice chairman; A. M. Schoen, G. M. Ford, B. S. Barker, Herman J. Haas and Frank M. Spratling, was appointed to carry propaganda for fire prevention into public schools, chiefly through the medium of junior safety councils. It was pointed out that fires are the leading cause of death among residents. 16 children and 12 adults being burned to death in Atlanta during 1925. Short talks were made by Frank E. Shumate, J. T. Hancock, A. A. Jamison, of the Boy Scouts; E. Stevens and M. L. Stinson among these.

Better education of pedestrians and motorists in obeying automatic traffic light signals installed at most of the downtown street intersections was urged in letter from C. V. Hohenstein, of the Atlanta Automobile and Retail Merchants' association.

The body was on record as congratulating Chairman W. B. Hartsfield, of the police committee, for his views on stricter enforcement of laws, safety and otherwise, at all times instead of at spasmodic intervals.

PLAN TO PRESERVE COIN SALE RECORDS

Plans for permanent preservation of the record of the number of Confederate memorial half-dollars purchased in every city and town of every southern state were announced Wednesday by Joseph A. McCord, treasurer of the Stone Mountain Memorial association.

The record, Mr. McCord said, will be deposited in a specially-carved niche in the memorial hall which will be hewn out of the breast of the granite base under the central group of the monument. The record will be made from an audit of the association's book January 23.

SMOKE ABATEMENT MEETING IS CALLED

Announcement was made Wednesday that a mass meeting of the Smoke Abatement league, members of the Federated Women's Clubs, smoke committees from various organizations and physicians of the city will be held at the mayor's office at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. The meeting will make plans by which ordinances against smoke may be fully enforced.

HOWARD WILL SPEAK ON ROAD SITUATION

William Schley Howard, former congressman, will speak at the regular luncheon of the junior chamber of commerce today at the Hotel No. 2 of the Chamber of Commerce building.

Special numbers will be rendered by Susie Davis, well-known colored composer, assisted by entertainers from local colored theaters. William B. Disbrow, Jr., will act as chairman.

MOVE TO ABOLISH CEMETERY POST HELD IN ABEYANCE

A motion that the post of superintendent of Oakland cemetery be abolished and the cemetery placed under supervision of L. L. Wallis, general manager of parks, was made before the cemetery committee of council at its initial session Wednesday afternoon by Alderman C. M. Ford, member of the committee.

When B. T. Huie, chairman, and other members of the committee interposed objections to taking immediate action, it was agreed that the committee would conduct an investigation to determine the feasibility of abolishing the position and to report back at a meeting to be called within the next two weeks.

John P. Henning has been in charge of the cemetery for several years.

Mrs. U. G. Foster, formerly of Atlanta, and the mother of Arthur G. Foster, of this city, died Wednesday at her residence in Detroit, according to news received Wednesday night.

The body will arrive in Atlanta this afternoon and will be carried to the residence of her son, of 32 Dell avenue, in the northern part of the city, held with Harry G. Poole, in charge.

In addition to her son here, she survived with her husband: another son, J. Frank Foster, of Detroit, Mich.; a daughter, Mrs. E. H. Burdette, of Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Lynda Teague of Blue Ridge, Ga.

Funeral arrangements will be completed today.

Injunction May Be Asked To Prevent Stone Mountain Interurban Car Fare Hike

Citizens of Stone Mountain Consider Asking Court To Stay Proposed Increase in Fare Rates.

Probability that injunction proceedings to prevent increase in passenger fares on the Stone Mountain interurban line will be launched within the next few days was seen Wednesday when Carl N. Guess, attorney for the city of Stone Mountain, stated that he would confer with city officials regarding what action to be taken.

The increase in rates, ranging from 22 to 40 per cent over the old rates, was authorized in an order Tuesday morning by the Georgia public service commission. Opposition to the increase was voiced at a public hearing on the question held before the commission on December 3.

The new rates are to be effective February 1 and Attorney Guess stated Wednesday that decision on the tentative plan to seek injunction could be made within the next few days.

Following the order of the public service commission, the Georgia Railway & Power company announced Wednesday that it had purchased five modern, low-step interurban trolley cars for use on the Stone Mountain line, as part of a campaign to improve the service. New cars will be put into service within four months.

They will cost approximately $18,000 each, it was stated, and will represent the last word in interurban car construction. They will be capable of greater speed than cars now used on the line and will be equipped with the best lighting system and safety appliances. They may be operated either singly or in two-car trains.

Cars will be colored cream and red and floors will be covered with battle-gray linoleum. Individual deep air cushion seats will be installed, upholstered with genuine leather. Seating capacity of the cars will be 52, 37 occupying seats in the front and 15 in the smoking compartment, at the rear, it is said.

Students To Get
Special Section
For Paderewski

Despite assurances that all tickets to both the Flonzaley and Paderewski concerts can be sold out at the regular scale of prices, the Atlanta Music club will observe its policy of making special concessions to enable students of high school and college students who might not be able to attend at the regular scale, it was announced Wednesday by officers of the Atlanta Music club.

A block of 200 seats for the Flonzaley concert at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium Saturday afternoon, January 23, is to be released to students at $1, half the regular price of admission, and a block of nearly 800 seats for the Paderewski concert January 29, to be opened to students at $1.50, less than half the figure for the best seats.

The scale of prices for the Paderewski concert is to run from $4 for boxes, front section arena, and first three rows of dress circle, to $2.50 for balcony seats, with a large section of arena seats and more than half of the dress circle seats at $1.50. The concert is to be made up of seats from 14 Georgia towns and cities, in addition to single orders from all parts of the south, had been received at the Music club office, 84 North Broad street, Wednesday afternoon, although sale of seats is not to begin until Friday, January 22, at Cable Piano company.

HUGE FERTILIZER
TONNAGE TESTED
IN STATE IN 1925

During 1925 up to December 1, 776,500 tons of fertilizer were sold in Georgia, according to records of the state department of agriculture. Of this amount, 55,671 tons were tested by the fertilizer inspectors, samples being analyzed by Dr. S. C. Wilson, state chemist. This is regarded as an exceptionally close estimation and shows a far greater percentage of tested fertilizer than is customary in other states.

According to the report of the state chemist only 47 per cent of the fertilizer analyzed last year met the requirements in purity, and 13.53 per cent so far failed to comply with requirements as to subject distributors to penalties. Plant food sufficient to meet the commercial value placed on them but lacking other necessities to meet the guarantees, was found to be the condition in 39.1 per cent of samples analyzed.

TOCCOA COMPANY
CHARTER ILLEGAL,
COURT DECIDES

In a decision handed down Wednesday the Georgia supreme court held that a charter issued in 1913 to the Toccoa Power company is illegal and that the corporation is a mere name. The corporation in the case of W. E. Rogers against the Toccoa Power company, involving an effort by the company to condemn land in Fannin county for a waterpower development.

The court held that the Toccoa Power company made application for charter in Fannin county, but the charter was granted by the late Judge Moses Wright at Rome, in Floyd county, during vacation.

The judge's order shows on its face a total lack of jurisdiction and the judgment is wholly void.

In refusing to confirm the right of eminent domain to condemn the land desired, the court says:

"When it is sought to take property for public purposes without the consent of the owner, there must be a strict compliance with every requirement of the law. . . . A corporation depending solely upon a sole judgment is not even an entity but, on the contrary, a nullity. The state cannot undertake to delegate its extreme power of eminent domain to a mere name."

The Toccoa Power company is understood to now be affiliated with the Georgia Railway and Power company.

FORESTRY DIRECTOR TO SPEAK IN ATHENS

B. M. Lufburrow, Georgia state forester, will speak on "The Forestry Situation in Georgia" at Athens on Wednesday night, January 27.

Mr. Lufburrow is the only speaker for that night at the annual farmers' week convention to be held during the week of January 25-30 at the State College of Agriculture.

GAS TAX FOR 1925

NETS $4,500,000

Estimates by William B. Harrison, tax clerk in the office of Comptroller General William A. Wright, place the total income to the state from the 3 1/2 cent tax on gasoline at approximately $4,500,000.

Gasoline companies have until January 15 to complete payments, but by using the same ratio of increase for all companies as is shown in checks already received, Mr. Harrison expects final quarter payments to total $1,400,000. Collections for the first three-quarters of the year totaled $3,095,348.90.

Of the 3 1/2 cents collected on each gallon of gasoline, the state highway department receives 1 1/2 cents for road construction; counties receive 1 cent, based on proportion of road mileage, and 1 cent goes to the state treasury for retirement of W. A. A. state warrants. Warrants will be retired during the present year and after January 1, 1927, the state highway department will receive an additional 1 cent per gallon from the fund.

Realignment of Air Defense In Navy Planned by Solons; Building of Dirigible Held Up

Enlisted Personnel of the Navy to Be Cut 4,000;
Lakehurst Station to Be Closed Temporarily.

Washington, January 13.—(AP)—Realignment of the nation's naval air defenses, including construction of a new and larger dirigible to replace the wrecked Shenandoah, is contemplated in the administration's navy program now taking shape in congress.

The reorganization would be accompanied by economies in other branches of the naval service, including a reduction of navy enlisted personnel from 86,000 to $2,000,000 and withdrawal of a number of warships from active duty.

The house appropriation committee also has decided there is no present need for a new dirigible. The Los Angeles, now laid up in her hangar, is the only dirigible in the administration's navy program now taking shape in congress.

The reorganization would be accompanied by economies in other branches of the naval service, including a reduction of navy enlisted personnel from 86,000 to $2,000,000 and withdrawal of a number of warships from active duty.

Such, however, is not the fact.

Sound National Economy.

A new surplus is to be created over and over again, year by year.

Mr. Lowden, in the light of these and other illustrations, declared sound national economy.

"The nation that holds this surplus," he said, "is the richer for having it. It is the better for the nation that it knows how to add to that we shall have enough of food and raw materials. The farmer asks why,

if this seasonal surplus is a good thing for every one else, it should result in a loss to him.

The nation should employ this abundance, not waste it.

It should hold sufficient for its own needs as against a less fruitful time, and it should aim to dispose of the surplus beyond that in the markets of the world upon the most advantageous terms possible.

No recommendation for a new dirigible is contained in the supply measure, but the bill does not contain any specific provision for the construction of a new dirigible.

Mr. Wilbur said there had been no decision whether the projected craft should be of the Shenandoah or metal-covered type. The department expects to ask for an addition of $300,000 for experiments with metal dirigibles.

Light Craft Doubtful.

The secretary told the naval committee that the navy general board expended lighter-than-air craft as in the experimental stage, doubted

the military value, and opposed any experiments which would curtail needed types of war craft, such as scout cruisers or fast submarines.

They had agreed, however, that for experimental purposes the Shenandoah should be replaced.

Regarding the much-discussed question of the efficiency of the naval air service, the appropriations committee

in reporting the naval appropriation bill declared a "very gratifying situation"

had been found in this service,

although line officers should have more instruction in aviation, and provision should be made to supply a great number of trained pilots in emergencies.

The appropriations committee left to the navy to decide which warships should be retired. It pointed out that Great Britain now maintains on active duty only a part of her potential fleet.

price, which has been embodied in the Dickinson bill.

Mr. Lowden began by showing how the national welfare requires stabilized agricultural production and a constant surplus of products.

Corn, he pointed out, is now cheap, the consumers as the result of a bumper crop, which is worth $200,000,000 less

to the producers than the short crop of 1924. But now, if the farmers should decrease their acreage to produce a smaller crop, which will yield greater returns, the price of corn

would mount skyward, meat products would follow, and there would be hunger and want in the industrial and commercial centers of the land.

Discusses Cotton Crop.

"Let us consider our cotton for a moment," he continued. "In 1924, the crop was 14,000,000 bales. Of our 1924 crop, we exported about 9,250,000 bales.

Without this cotton the cotton mills of Europe would have been idle, and industrial chaos would have come.

Without American cotton, England

and France would have been constipated?"

think from references in the inscriptions to the earliest burial customs, the shaft was in the same agus below. There were other small objects found, not of great importance.

Eighty, ninety feet the shaft descended, and the friable limestone rock in which the tomb was quarried presented dangers and difficulties. The workers had to descend in wicker baskets, lowered by natives with poles, and as the ropes became frayed against the sides of the shaft, pieces of rotten rock were dislodged and fell below. But the work went on.

It was March seventh when tapping on the wall showed the excavation in the last half century cotton plants had been raised to hold on only, as we are told, because of the unpaid labor of women and children in the field. And during all this time, the English government and the English spinners have spent millions yearly to open up new sources of supply, with no reduction in price.

It is the stupendous things to produce considerably more than half so essential a commodity as cotton has come to be in the industrial world. It in itself should make a nation unique among the nations of the world. One would suppose that such an advantage would confer great prosperity upon the cotton farmers of Senenefru. Signature.

Those figures in hieroglyphics explain why the first rumor that the pyramid might be broken within arose. According to the fact that Seneferu was on a "plank" or "mat" was not good enough for Dr. Reisner, nor other serious archeologists. The reasons against the tomb being the pharaoh's seemed overwhelming, and as the days went on these were marshaled until after the rumor had got out, government officials had visited them, and a communiqué was issued. This much had been seen on what was at first described as a "plank" resting on the sarcophagus—the hieroglyphic signature of Senenefru.

He told how touched he had been earlier in the day when trustees announced that the new $100,000 dormitory to be erected at Tech would be named "Harris Hall" in his memory, and said time and again, "I don't suppose, gentlemen, any man of my age ever heard so many good things said about him as I have heard today."

John W. Grant, of the board of trustees, was toastmaster at the dining. Those present included Governor Harris, Mr. Grant, Dr. Brittain, George M. Hope, W. M. Camp, Col. J. C. Goodrich, F. R. Jones, Ralph T. Jones, Oscar Palmer, Raymond Stapleton and Fort E. Land.

Sugges Federal Farm Board.

"Suppose we had a federal farm board should find that the producers of any farm commodity were sufficiently organized as to be really representative of all the producers of that commodity. Suppose that when it has ascertained this fact, it should authorize the producers of that commodity to take care of surplus without regard to the market value of the product remaining. However, they would not permit the exportable surplus to determine the price for domestic consumers. The domestic price would then be determined largely by the surplus, and the surplus would be disposed of in the same way as the domestic price of manufactured articles. Capital and services would receive the same reward in agriculture as in other fields of production."

Until farmers are adequately organized, the surplus problem should be solved by government and Mr. Lowden holds.

SCHOOL SUPERVISORS URGE EDUCATION BOND

Plans for the state's school work during 1926 were laid at a conference of supervisors which adjourned Wednesday afternoon after a three-day session in the office of State School Superintendent Fort E. Land. All members of the state educational department were present during the conference.

It was the consensus of opinion of those present that it was felt that the extra session of the legislature should act favorably on a bond issue to provide for prompt payment of teachers, for a change in the fiscal year of the schools, and for provision for equalization of educational opportunities.

The same length of term will prevail in the schools as will be held at district A. & M. schools, this year as in 1925, it was decided. Summer schools are held under the direction of the state school superintendent and J. O. Martin, E. A. Pound and M. L. Duggan were appointed to prepare courses of study for submission to state authorities.

The form and content of reports to be made for supervisors upon inspection of state aided elementary and high schools were discussed and some changes proposed. Changes also were made in regulations governing applications for state aid for 1926.

It was agreed that home education should be encouraged and that all should cooperate with the council of home education. It was decided, too, that seventh grade examination questions would be sent out and that certificates of completion of the seventh grade would not be granted.

Among those present were State School Superintendent Fort E. Land, state school supervisors and their assistant, J. O. Martin, I. S. White, Paul Ellison, M. L. Duggan, W. B. Hill, E. A. Pound, Tom Wisdom, George D. Goddard, Misses Lurline Parker and Sarah Moll Duggan and Gordon G. Singleton, director of information and statistics.

DEKALB I.O.O.F. PLANS BIG GENERAL HOSPITAL

Plans to carry out a program under which DeKalb county citizens will be provided with a general hospital were formed at the DeKalb county convention of the I. O. O. F., held Wednesday night at Stone Mountain. Under the plan outlined the money for erection of the hospital is to be raised by citizens of the county while the maintenance will be left to officials of the county. A special report on plans was prepared by the general hospital committee of the order.

Mayor Walter A. Sims, of Atlanta, delivered the principal address at the meeting Wednesday night and special music was furnished by Si Hoskins' band.

Mayor Sims, who is a member of the convention, commended the body for its interest in establishing a hospital and after citing the fact that Atlanta spends three-fourths of a million dollars a year maintaining its hospitals, expressed the opinion that such a hospital as proposed by the Odd Fellows is needed in DeKalb county.

The committee on the hospital proposition reported that solicitation funds had been retarded by the holiday, but enough funds have already been pledged to assure the success of the project and that definite action will be taken by June 1, as to securing a building or location for the hospital. Active solicitation of funds will be resumed within two weeks, it was stated.

Cattle Tests Reveal Fine Death of Dairy Cows in State in 1925

Cattle tested for tuberculosis in Georgia during 1925 number 29,821, according to figures in the office of Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian. Out of this total only 224 showed any tubercular reaction to the tests, and of these 15 were merely suspected of being tubercular. Testimony in the case will be continuing.

In Fulton county 732 tests were made with 13 cattle showing tubercular infection, while in DeKalb county 1,147 tests showed only three reactions.

Of the 29,821 cattle tested 27,985 were grade cows and 1,836 pure bred. In Fulton county 205 tested were grade cows.

It was stated that nearly all of the infected cattle were found in a few counties and practically all of them were cattle shipped from other states. Georgia cattle are almost entirely free of tuberculosis, it was stated, and only reactions in any number being found at points where there have been recent arrivals of cattle from out of state sections.

COST OF BAD ROADS.

A great deal has been said about the cost of good roads, and almost every one naturally thinks of the expense of building permanent high ways, but there is another side of this problem.The wear and tear on motor driven vehicles when operated on hard-surfaced roads as compared with the cost of these items when cars are operated on dusty and mud roads, such as ours, is an ap palling figure. For example, the average motor car in Georgia is dis carded before it has run 50,000 miles because the maintenance cost has by that time run so high that it is not profitable to continue to operate the car.Now almost every one will easily see that the same car should readily run at least 60,000 or 70,000 miles
if operated on hard-surfaced roads
that were free from dust and mud,
and on this basis, the increased life
of the cars that we are now oper ating in Georgia would be more than 20 per cent greater and in like manner the yearly loss from de preciation would be correspondingly less.To reduce the above approxi mate figures to dollars and cents we find something like this: Two hun dred and fifty thousand cars costing an average of say $1,000 each, or a total of $250,000,000, and if the de preciation on this amount of equip ment was only reduced 10 per cent per year the total saving to the car and truck owners would be $25,000,000 annually.The sum of $2,500,000 would pay the interest at 5 per cent on $50,000,000 worth of bonds and the car and truck owners would be better off, for the figure of 10 per cent is very low as a saving.

SALVAGING WASTES.

Georgia has reached a point in agricultural development where there must be established a depend able outlet for that part of a di versified program which can be marketed only when manufactured.There are several commodities in cluded in such a program that reach perfection in this state. The yellow sweet potato is one.Considerable progress has been made toward marketing the better grades of these but practically nothing has been done toward preparing for market that part of production which is undesirable for dis tribution through the fresh vegetable trade.Statistics show that enough sweet potatoes are lost annually in Georgia for the want of a market at harvest time to produce eight million dollars' worth of canned pota toes. In addition to the necessity for eliminating this waste, there is an ever-increasing demand for canned foods.While there is opportunity for service and profit in salvaging the waste in some other farm crops, the sweet potato is the outstanding op portunity for the canning industry.
It is perfectly adapted to the canning process and is the one big food crop that is not now being distributed in canned form.The volume of canned sweet potatoes is so insignificant until the census of canning and preserving for 1923 does not give it a place in making up total estimates of canned food. This same bulletin shows peas, tomatoes, corn and beans as more than fourteen million cases each. The total value of canned foods for 1923 in the United States, including fish and meat products, was $573,000,000. Georgia contributed from its farm prod ucts in round numbers only $760, 000, and from its fisheries and meats $500,000, or approximately 1-500th of the total. There is much food for thought in these figures.The challenge to action comes from both consumers of the finished product and producers of the raw material. Such a condition presents a great opportunity for service and profit to wide awake Georgians. No state in the south can produce the best edible grades of sweet pota toes in greater abundance than Georgia. They can be profitably grown in every county. The Georgia product indeed is so superior to others that the prefix "Georgia" to a Yam is a token of merit. The Georgia Yam, therefore, should be standardized. It should find itself on the store shelves of the entire world.

THE TRAFFIC TOLL.

Deaths resulting from traffic ac
idents in the United States in 1925 reached an alarming total, and far in excess of such fatalities in 1924.
This may be accounted for by the increased number of automobiles in service, and by the increase in in toxicated drivers.In Atlanta the total accidents were 232 fewer than in 1924, but deaths resulting from such accidents increased from 31 to 46—a ratio that is far too heavy.When it is recalled, however, that Chicago and suburbs had 789 deaths, the Atlanta record, taking into account the difference in pop ulation, is not so bad.Unavoidable street conditions in Atlanta contribute to traffic acci dents. The streets are narrower on the whole than in most cities. The intersections down town are at acute angles. The shopping area is comparatively small, thus intensi fying congestion. These facts must be considered in doing justice to the officials engaged in traffic con trol.The traffic situation in Atlanta today is in better shape than it has been in a number of years. There were comparatively few accidents during the holidays. For this im proved condition many agencies are responsible, the Atlanta Safety coun cil, the traffic committee of council,
the police department, the two re
coders, and others—and the co operative spirit of the people.There is more "safety conscience" in Atlanta than ever before. This is a most encouraging and helpful con dition.Every effort should be made to make the record a better one in 1926.
If the people will observe the light signals, watch their step,
stop Jay-walking, keep the children
out of the streets, and walk care fully and drive carefully, the im provement in the 1926 record will be marvelous.The police department and Re coders Holloway and Calloway, and the Atlanta Safety council, and the helpful agencies, deserve high com mendation for their coordinated good work in making the streets of Atlanta as safe as possible.

BLIND TO ADVANTAGES.

Dr. Julius Klein, director of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, has just issued a review of America's foreign trade in 1925, and takes occasion to fore cast the potential widening of our markets by reason of the Locarno treaty. In this connection he says:"We have reason to hope that a new era has been thus invoked among the former warring nations and to be lieve that Europe is at last about to enter into a period offering the most beneficial opportunities for her undi turbed internal development. Restored to a reasonable sense of national stability and the opportunity for greater industrial productivity, Eu rope must undoubtedly find herself with an increased ability to buy from abroad; and it can hardly be doubted that American trade will have an appropriate share in Europe's im proved markets."The fact is the foreign trade position of this country has been ma terially strengthened since the sign ing of that treaty—this being base
largely on the psychology attached to the "spirit of Locarno." The economy as well as political security of European nations having been
vouchsafed by the treaty, Amer ica's increased trade is not only in evitable, but it promises to become unprecedented in volume.The making of the treaty of Loc arno, the most outstanding international event during 1925, was not only under the auspices of the League of Nations, but was made possible directly and only by the signing of that treaty—this being base
largely on the psychology attached to the "spirit of Locarno."The economic as well as political security
of European nations having been
vouchsafed by the treaty, Amer ica's increased trade is not only in evitable, but it promises to become unprecedented in volume.The people of this city could better af fend to abolish the office held by men who sanction and incite such a step as a "wide open Atlanta" than they can afford to defy the laws of God. Closing the houses of ill fame in Atlanta did not remove from the infidel hearts of men and women the desire that caused them to be opened, but they did prevent their operation in our midst.And yet, beneficiary of it as there is America to a major extent, there are leaders in the United States who are so irreconcilable that they are fighting the entry of this nation into an international court of arbitration because such a court must function under the auspices of the league. It is unthinkable that such is a fact but it is a fact nevertheless.Like Br'er Rabbit, they say Dawes is "layin' low" until the senate goes to kicking high.Nothing done about the weather
so far. Probably that's why it keeps on cutting up high jinks.News comes that the old-time fid lers of the Ozarks are practicing day and night to make Henry Ford lose his religion.It predictions of a late spring are verified, it will be some time before we encounter the poths with the tyres and the liars digging bait.

Sunday Anti-Dancing Bill Upheld by Supreme Court In Decision on Wednesday

Tybee Island Case Now Will Be Tried on Merits In the Savannah City Court.

The Georgia law prohibiting operation of public dance halls on Sundays, which was passed at the last session of the legislature, was upheld in its entirety in a decision downed Wednesday by the state supreme court.

The case was that of W. D. Durden, operator of a public dancing pavilion at Tybee island, against the state. Durden claimed that the bill, introduced by Representative Marion Penecost of Laurens, was unconstitutional because the caption did not refer to proprietors of dance halls and gave the impression that the dancers themselves would be punished, whereas the body of the bill made proprietors responsible.

The high court of the state held, however, that the provision for punishment of the proprietors of a place where the law is violated is within the power of the legislature. It also held that omission of the words "and for other purposes" at the end of the caption did not invalidate the bill, its purpose being to "prohibit public dancing on the Sabbath day."

SAVANNAH COURT TO HEAR CASE.

Savannah, Ga., January 13.—(P) The division of the supreme court upholding the anti-Sunday dancing law means that the charge against William D. Durden, of Savannah, of violation of the statute will be tried on its merits in the city court.

Durden was arrested on a warrant charging that he had permitted dancing on Sunday at his Tybee pavilion. When arraigned for trial, his attorney

PINGHOT'S COAL BILLS GIVEN TO LEGISLATURE

Harrisburg, Pa., January 13.—(P) Measures providing for control and regulation of the anthracite industry, and repeal of the state anthracite tax and miners' certificate law were placed before the Pennsylvania legislature when it convened here today in extra session.

The regulatory measures, designed to place hard coal mining under the state public service commission as a public utility and to permit compacts between states for control of the retail trade, were introduced by administration leaders yesterday. Gov. G. W. Pinchot's recommendations, set far in the message with which he opened the session.

PEPPER IS SLATED IN PEACEMAKER ROLE.

Scranton, Pa., January 13.—Senator George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, is now looked upon as the next man who will attempt to assume the role of peacemaker in the anthracite strike. The coal operators and their constituents are chief among those who exult and hope for Pepper's intervention.

Pepper and Senator David A. Reed are credited with settling the anthracite strike of 1922. The operators offered Pepper to Governor Pinchot, declaring the latter favors the miners.

Some observers say Pepper will intervene within the next week or ten days, and that when he acts, it will be to terminate the industrial dispute by the federal government. Pepper holds the same views as do President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon on the strike situation, it is understood, and while the president continues his hands-off policy, he may move through the Pennsylvania senator, who has kept in close touch with the strike negotiations in New York and the situation in the anthracite region.

BIG FOUR UNIONS ASK WAGE INCREASE OF $140,000,000

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, January 13.—Wage demands that would add more than $140,000,000 a year to the payrolls of Class "A" railroads, will be presented by the Big Four brothers as soon as the unions and management have disposed of their negotiations for a new form of federal mediation agency.

The increase that the principal unions are reported to have in mind is one dollar a day. Altogether, such a raise would amount to $100,000,000 a year, more than 10 per cent increase, while most of the unions have been reported as desiring.

The trainmen, conductors and firemen are said to have agreed in their own ranks as to the amount of increase they will demand. The engineers have not yet put their wage demands in form, but doubtless will ask the same as the others.

Until the dollar-day increase demand appeared, it had been understood the rail unions would be satisfied to have their wages boosted back to the war peak, but it appears that in closed sessions, the brotherhoods have decided to push higher.

In 1920, the federal labor board ordered a 12 per cent reduction.

Last year a 5 per cent increase was ordered and it was understood the unions would be satisfied with a further increase of 7 per cent, bringing wages to the 1920 level, but local unions, representing railway workers in all parts of the country, confirm the report that a dollar a day boost will be demanded.

ECLIPSE OF SUN BRINGS INDIANS TO HOLY WATERS

Allahabad, India, January 13.—Hundreds of thousands of Hindu pilgrims from all parts of India are en route to the junction of the holy rivers Ganges and Ganges to bathe there on the occasion of Thursday's eclipse of the sun which the Indians know as the Magh Mela.

Thousands of pilgrims are arriving hourly. It is estimated that 500,000 already have bathed and that 2,000,000 more will perform the rite within the next few days. The authorities are closing their most popular bathing break of the plague which might come as a result of the gathering and washing of the pilgrims. The police are busy day and night directing the usual traffic.

Many of the Indians cling to the old belief that the moon swallows the sun and that the sun is digested and that the sun swallows the moon when the moon is eclipsed. On Thursday these believing souls will wait fearfully to learn whether the moon digests the sun.

Imported Gunmen Killed Gangster, Brother Claims

Chicago, January 13.—(P) A record silk shipment, two trainloads of raw material, valued at $10,000,000, reached its destination in New York this afternoon, just fifteen days after it left.

This was the conclusion reached by the Candler building and reflected W. R. Barnes, president of the railroad.

Officers declared for the ensuing year a dividend of 3 per cent on preferred stock, which added to a previous dividend of 3 per cent made a total dividend of 10 per cent for the year.

The shipment comprises 10,000 bales. The heavy interest charges on the huge sum involved induced silk brokers to pay excess charges for speed. The two trains left Seattle Sunday morning, expecting to make the transcontinental trip in about 86 hours. Interest charges on the value of a bale amounted to nearly $1,050 a day.

The shipment fills 25 baggage cars and is three times as large as the average size of these silk specials.

From New York the silk will be distributed to mills in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New England. The men lay in state at the home of his father, John Spingola. He will be buried.

R. L. Herrick, fiscal agent of the company, reported that the company which was organized two years ago, now has 1,600 stockholders. Nearly all the officers, directors and stockholders are railroad men.

Officers of the company were elected.

BONDS ARE VOTED IN MERIWETHER

Greenville, Ga., January 13.—(AP)—Meriwether county people today voted 2,200 to 60 in favor of a $300,000 bond issue for the building of three new roads through this county one from Coweta county line to the Harris county line; another from Greenville to Warm Springs, Manchester and Talbotton, and the third from Greenville to Woodbury and to the old county line, to connect with the road to Atlanta.

The 50 miles of paving will give Meriwether county a network of roads equalized in few counties in the state. On several of these highways there are movements under way to establish toll mills and other new industries.

One of the highways will be a connecting line to the main road from Atlanta to Columbus, while the one to the Pike county line will afford egress to Atlanta and Macon, via Zebulon and Barnesville, where it will connect with the Dixie highway.

3 CONTESTS ON PREP CARD HERE TODAY

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Atlanta prep basketball teams will enter their second day of play this afternoon, with three good games on the schedule. The Henry Grady will play Tech High on the Henry Grady court; Tech High will meet Commercial yesterday 21, when advance guard reports 60 men will work out in the south.

The size of the squad the report made to be very closely contested. The team plays twice each week, and the championship will be awarded on a percentage basis.

University will have another hard battle on its hands this afternoon when it plays the Atlanta club. The Tykes have a strong team, as found in Brooklyn in a cash deal, and parted with Catcher Mickey O'Neil and Outfielder Felix to obtain Brown, outfielder, and Taylor, catcher from the Dodgers.

Another team is Harry Rigonds, the American from the Pacific league. Rigonds had a trial with the Athletics a couple of years ago. Duffy Lewis, Red Sox outfielder, says that Rigonds is major league material.

Archie Hesley, left-handed Indian pitcher, who played last year with the Waterloo team in the Mississippi Valley, has pitched last season for the Tampa club in the Florida State league, are slated for the training trip, and another candidate is Eddie Van Brunt, giant boxer of the Dover, Del., team. Among the players bidding for places will be Tom, former pitcher for the Yankees, and Eddie, former Eastern leagues.

G. M. A. will play Marietta, as yet an unknown quantity, in Marietta Friday night, instead of this afternoon as scheduled. Coach Royston, of Marietta, has been working hard with his men, and they swept aside all opposition in their pre-season games. On the other hand, G. M. A. ran up the largest score of the year last Tuesday against Fulton, with Pugh, Cadet forward, shooting 20 points. This is likely to be one of the closest games of the week's play.

Marist will enjoy a rest today, as we swing into action again next Tuesday. In the meantime, Coach Bean is not letting his charges rest any time, but has them hard at work in preparation for their next game.

The club committee will be

Committee Named

Bond Issue Bill

Player Limit Rule Discussed

Athens, Ga., January 13.—(Special.)—C. C. Thomas, president of the Georgia Highway association, today announced the names of a subcommittee to draft a bill for a highway bond issue authorized by the meeting of the association in Atlanta, January 7. Mr. Thomas also announced that the date for the meeting when the bill will be drafted will be January 21 at the Ansley hotel, Atlanta.

The committee follows: First, A. M. Deal, Statesboro; second, Cruger Westbrook, Albany; third, J. D. Weaver, Dawson; fourth, W. R. Jones, Greenville; fifth, John E. Smith, Atlanta; sixth, A. K. Maddox, Griffin; seventh, Harry Hamilton, Decatur; eighth, M. A. Abney, Marietta; ninth, H. H. Estes, Gainesville; tenth, George H. Carswell, Irwinton; eleventh, Dr. H. J. Carswell, Waycross; twelfth, J. E. Burch, Dublin.

Part of the routine work was completed yesterday at the opening meeting, the approximately 300 delegates devoting most of the three hours' session to the selection of committees.

Harry A. Williams, president of the Pacific Coast league; John T. Toole, president of the Mississippi Valley, and Thomas J. Hickox, president of the American association, decided last night to meet within the next few days to arrange for a minor world series each year. Present plans call for a play-off between the two eastern leagues to meet the coast league.

Four player deals were closed yesterday. Three of them were minor league affairs. The fourth was the sale of Ernie Kruger, catcher, by the Cincinnati Nationals to the Minneapolis club of the American association.

Lajoie, Collins Are Rated Above Hornsby by Hutchie

(Following is the forty-first article of a series entitled "Rounding Third," by Hughie Jennings, on his 34 years of major league baseball service. Jennings, discoverer of Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach, and central figure in some of baseball's biggest developments, writes an interesting history of the national game in this series. He also analyzes the greatest figures of baseball during the last 34 years.)

BY HUGH A. JENNINGS.

Chapter 41.

I have selected three all-star teams for all time. The selections were made from the leading players since organized baseball came into existence. The men whose names you find here are, in my opinion, the best that have played their respective positions. The three teams follow:

FIRST	SECOND	THIRD
First Base..... Chase.....	Asner.....	Sisler.....
Second Base..... Lajoie.....	Hornb....	E. Collins.....
Shortstop..... Wagner.....	McGraw.....	Wallace.....
Left Field..... Cobb.....	Kelley.....	Frisch.....
Center Field..... Speaker.....	Youngs.....	Weaver.....
Right Field..... Keeler.....	Ruth.....	Burkett.....
Catcher..... Bresnan.....	Kling.....	Lange.....
Catcher..... Ewing.....	Robinson.....	Hamilton.....
Pitcher..... Mathewson.....	Alexander.....	Carrigan.....
Pitcher..... Johnson.....	Walsh.....	Schalk.....
Pitcher..... Rusine.....	Brown.....	Young.....
Pitcher..... Weddel.....	McGinnity.....	Donovan.....
		Shocker.....
		Plank.....

In picking these three teams I have taken players from the old and the modern school. There is little difference between the three lineups. The first team is chosen chiefly on records. Each man named was an outstanding player at his position, the best the game has brought out to date.

You may not agree with me on several of my selections. That is natural. They are, as I have said, my personal opinion and if we all agreed, then baseball would soon perish. The differences of opinion make the game interesting; at least they keep the game going strong.

On my second and third teams you will find some players, particularly on the third, that in your opinion should have been placed higher. I want to explain these placings.

On the second team you find such men as Sisler, Eddie Collins, Youngs, Ruth and on the third are Hornsby, Frisch, Weaver, etc. The players whose careers have not ended. The years from now some of them will probably be placed on the first team, for a player's time standing cannot be determined until he has passed from baseball. I have considered only the work done to date and tried to judge accordingly.

Time Will Tell.

Hornsby, for instance, may establish the greatest batting record in history and prove himself unquestionably the best of all time. Sisler, Frisch, etc., may surpass all infielders in the record book. If George Sisler's eyes become as good as they were in 1922, he may supplant Hal Chase as the best first baseman of all time. I think Sisler would have done this already had he retained full use of his eyes. He is a better batter than Chase and approached him in fielding. Experience might have made him the supreme leader of the position. Ruth's true place also cannot be definitely determined until after he retires.

The first team has batting power. It includes the most gifted batters in history. It has the best pair of catchers, the game around and four pitchers who, in my opinion, should stand ahead of the entire field.

For aggressiveness, sheer fighting ability and the desire to win, you cannot surpass the second team. Take the four infielders that I have mentioned. While in their prime they would furnish the best combination of all time. Not alone were they four of the best from the standpoint of mechanical ability, but they were four of the most intelligent men ever to play ball strategists. They had speed of limb and speed of thought. The catchers were two of the craftiest and most resourceful. The pitchers of the second team, on their good days, were just as effective as those of the first but lacked their consistency. Johnson at his best was no match for the man with the ball. Alexander, however, was the equal of Waddell, and Brown and McGinnity at times hit the stride of Mathewson and Rusine.

Portside Swingers.

The only trouble with my second team is that a good left-hander might make trouble for the combination. Of the first seven men named Bobby Wallace was the only right-handed batter. Sisler, McGraw, Collins, Kelley, Youngs and Ruth all bat left-handed. Frisch, Weaver and Lange, Hornsby, etc., bat right-handed. Frisch and Weaver are numbered in the turn-around division of batsmen, standing at either end.

The first team is balanced as to hitting, with one infield and Bresnan batted right-handed. The three outfieldsers batted left-handed, but what batters they were!

My second team would be supreme in base-running. Sisler, Collins, Wallace, McGraw, Youngs and Ruth are six of the best in history. They had speed and intelligence.

The third team also has some good base runners. Frisch, Weaver, Lange and Hamilton were cokers. Every man on the third team was an excellent hitter.

It would be possible for any of these three teams to beat the other two in a series; they are closely matched. As for myself, I would greatly like to take any two of the second enter it in either major league and set back and enjoy the season. I would not have to worry a minute. The race would be over by August 20. It would be my idea of a glorious and photogenic existence.

Burk's Terrors Opponents Of Progressive Five Tonight

BY JULIAN GRIFFIN.

Burk's Terrors, Nashville basketball team, tonight will attempt to show Atlantans how their fearful nickname was derived. The victims of the attempt are the young athletes who wear the colors and initials of the Jewish Progressive club, one of the many sets of Joe Bean's pupils. The time set for hostilities is 8:30 o'clock.

The locals, after sailing through the regular schedule unbeaten last year, started out as if to repeat this season, but were thrown for losses on successive nights by Furman and Charlotte Y. M. C. A.

Monday night, however, Bean carried his boys down to play the fast and famous Albany five, on an enemy court, and they found their bearings sufficiently to regain winning confidence.

The J. I. C.'s offered no alibis for their two defeats this year, though indisposition on the part of a couple of stars impaired their speed and coordination to a large extent.

Will Be Preliminary.

Cash customers will not be short-changed tonight, for a fast preliminary contest has been arranged for the benefit of early birds. The junior quintet of the Progressive club meets the Audion Feds, a fast amateur team of the city.

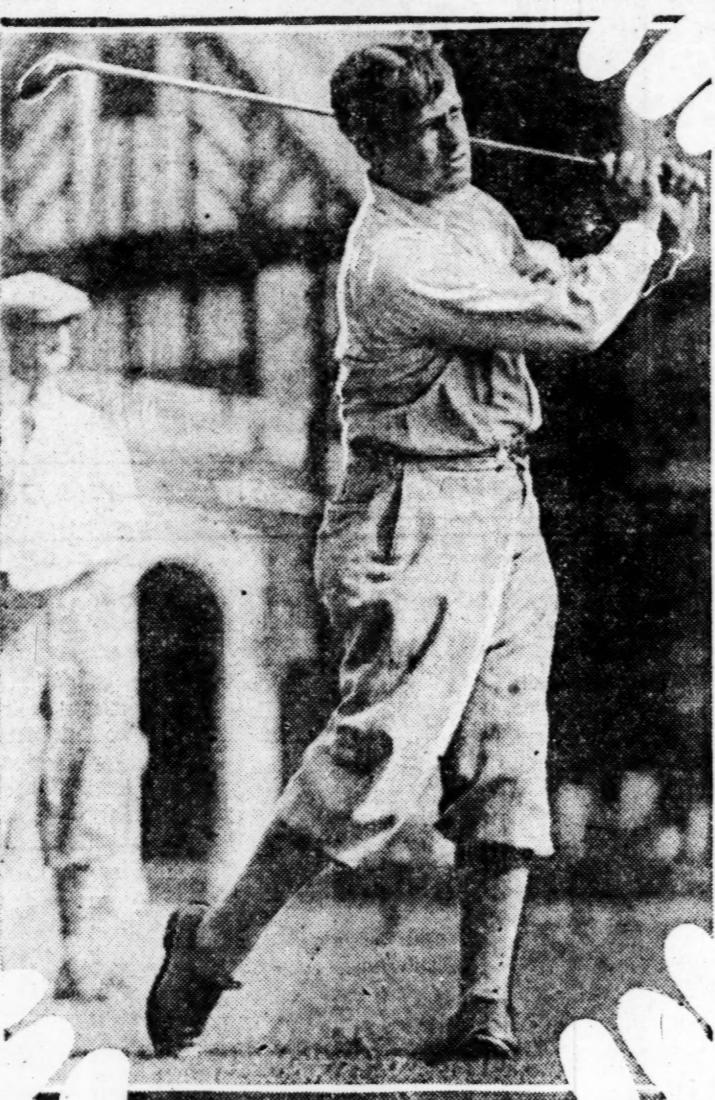

The terrible Terrors come to town with a record of 30 games won out of the last 33 played. The Nashville Ramblers were among the formidable five which fell under the barrage of the Terrors last season.

The Ringers brothers are among the stars of the invaders, one playing forward and the other holding down a guard position.

The entertainment will be topped

ATLANTA GOLF STARS FURTHER HONORED

Bobby Jones, shown at the left, and Watts Gunn, right, who brought further golf honors to Atlanta last summer when they finished first and second in the national amateur golf tournament, have been selected by the United States Golf association to be members of the team which will go to Scotland to play for the Walker cup. Jones has been in tournament play for years, although he still is young, but Gunn leaps, by this selection, to higher honors after having taken part in his first national tournament.

Atlanta Women Still in Shoot

Pinehurst, N. C., January 13.—(AP)—Mark Arie, of Champaign, Ill., Olympic champion, won the Pinehurst match here today in the third day of shooting in the big midwinter handicap tournament. For the first time in the history of the match, he won the match after elimination, as in golf, was used by the trap officials. Basing four divisions of 16 on Monday's shooting matches, were based on eighty targets apiece. Arie won today by defeating W. G. Warren, of Chicago, 79 to 78, in the first division final.

N. W. C. of Atwood, Ill., won the second division by winning the final from E. B. Springer, of Wildwood, N. J., 75-74.

In the three days shooting the western team is leading the east, with two days still to shoot.

Mrs. W. C. Andrews had the best score, she had so far shot a total of 141, and Mrs. H. M. Morris, of Morris, had 140.

Davies To Coach At Rochester

Rochester, N. Y., January 13.—(AP)—Tom Davies, of Pittsburgh, all-American halfback selection in 1916, 1920 and 1921, today was appointed head football coach of the University of Rochester, under contract for three years.

Davies, regarded as one of the greatest stars developed by Glenn Warner at Pittsburgh, will begin his work here in March when he takes over the squad for spring practice.

For the past two years Davies has been head coach at Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa. Previously he was coach at Geneva college and assistant to Coach Heisman at Pennsylvania.

Col. and Mrs. Danforth Hosts At Elaborate Dinner at Club

Elaborate in every detail, and one of the most beautiful dinners of the season, was the one at which Colonel and Mrs. Charles Danforth were hosts on Wednesday evening at the Piedmont Driving club.

The dinner table, which was in the shape of a hollow square, was placed in the large dining room of the club, and was most elegantly appointed. In the center, an attractive fountain played, while palms and evergreens were artistically arranged on the verdant plot with entwining flagstone paths.

Table Decorations.

At intervals on the large table there were lovely mounds of pastel shaded flowers of violets, swansons, roses, sweet peas, narcissi and begonias. Arranged between this artistic display of blossoms were crystal candelabra holding lighted tapers of pale green. Attractive monogrammed place cards indicated the places of the guests, and covers were laid for forty members of the social set and army contingent of Atlanta.

Whiteman Concert
To Be Attended
By Atlanta Society

Atlanta's younger social set and members of the older society contingent will attend the Paul Whiteman concert this evening at the auditorium. The performance to be followed by a number of informal supper parties.

There were many music lovers last season who greatly enjoyed Whiteman's "Experiment in American Music" with its "Rhapsody in Blue" and other bits of symphonic music. But Mr. Whiteman's "Jazz" has not impressed the jazz fans in the greater part of his audience, which never grew tired of the Whiteman fox trots. And this year he has promised to give Atlanta just what she wants—jazz and lots of it.

All music lovers, who realize the growing importance of this "new" music, and the dance lovers, who delight in the Whiteman "Charlestons," will be represented in the audience this evening.

About two years ago I suffered with ringworms on the back of my right hand. They itched badly and when I scratched them it caused the trouble to spread all over my hand and fingers. I had the trouble about eighteen months.

I was treated without any benefit. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I used it and got relief so purchased more, and in two months it was healed. (Signed) Miss Marianne Langlois, Port Allen, La.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Results of the French and Indian War.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

In 1762, France had made an ally of Spain, and now ceded her the land west of the Mississippi.

Spain ceded Florida to England, and received for Cuba, captured by the English in 1762.

In 1763 the King of England issued a proclamation that all lands between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi were reserved for the Indians—this measure was to prevent the colonies from becoming too large and powerful, but pioneering kept on.

The cost of the war with France increased the British national debt from £70,000,000 to £140,000,000.

The war had been an expensive one for England and to get money to pay off her debts, the King imposed a heavy tax upon the colonies. This demand was met with bitter indignation in America.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK. New York, January 13.—(AP)—The cotton market was very quiet again today. Prices fluctuated within a range of 1 point. A new season spot to 19.51 at the start. May declined to 19.43 and closed at that figure, compared with 19.49 at the close yesterday. The general market closed steady 1 to 6 points no lower.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 2 points. Active months sold up slightly after the call owing to continued steady buying. It was reported yesterday reports to a decline of 2 points. Active months sold up slightly after the call owing to continued steadiness in Liverpool, with reiterated reports of an improvement in cotton goods markets and claims of a somewhat better spot demand in the south. Liverpool spot sales again included 4,000 bales for export which was supposed to reflect further continental buying in the English market.

There probably was some buying here early on belief that between the demand for cotton out of the Liverpool stock for export and the improvement in Manchester, British importers soon would be forced into the southern spot markets for additional supplies. The buying here by no means met with the same success. The budge to 19.99 for March and 18.22 for October seemed to bring out a little realizing which was coupled with some selling for southern account. Prices eased in consequence. May selling off to 19.90 and October to 18.15 in late trading. The close was within 2 or 3 points of the lowest with new crops relatively steady. As was the case yesterday, bullish features in the new crop were not strong enough to offset the failure to stimulate any general buying. Traders appeared to be waiting for a further development of trade or some better line on the probable acreage and start of the coming crop.

Exports today were 12,471 bales, making 4,891,000 so far this season. Port receipts, 23,860. United States port stocks, 1,081,676.

MARKET IS QUIET AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, January 13.—(AP)—The cotton market was very quiet today, business being restricted to steady trading to a great extent. The fluctuations in prices were extremely narrow or only 8 to 9 points. At the highest of the day, the market was 19.50, above the previous close and at the lowest 2 to 6 points under that level. Even better cables than due at the opening failed to elicit any response in the local market which opened unchanged or 2 points up. This indifference to Liverpool which again consecutive day was attributed to the fact that the English market is much below the parity of American markets. The close was unchanged on October and 1 to 5 points down on other months.

At the start the market opened unchanged to 2 points up and fluctuated within that line during the day, reaching the highs of the day at 19.43 for March, 19.02 for May and 18.58 for July, or 3 to 6 points above the previous close. Prices eased off during the afternoon to 19.35 for March, 18.93 for May and 18.53 for July or 5 to 9 points down from the highs. The close was 19.35 for March and 18.22 for October seemed to bring out a little realizing which was coupled with some selling for southern account. Prices eased in consequence. May sell-

New York, January 13.—(AP)—Bullish operations in the public utility issues, based on reports of special dividend and merger developments featured today's rising curb market. United Gas and Improvement scored an extreme gain of over 6 points at 120, a new high record, in sympathy with the "big board" in public service of New Jersey, of which it owns a large block. Lehigh Power securities were run up 11½ points to 234 1-2 but lost half of its gain on profit taking.

Other public utilities for which there was a good demand were American Gas and Electric, American Surepower, "B" Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, which attained a new high at 53; Electric Bond and Share and the Light and Power, all of which showed net gains of 1 1-2 to 2 1-2 points. Northern Ohio Power, which was up 1 point, is just as sure to come in the future, the day might be expected to follow the day.

WATER RATE CUT
MOVE LAUNCHED

A move for an early reduction in city water rates was inaugurated Wednesday by Alderman Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the city council water committee, with announcement that he had been in conference during the day with W. Zode Smith, general manager of the waterworks, and will continue these conferences until a possible schedule could be worked out.

Action of Alderman Ashley was in direct accord with one of the policies advocated in his annual message to council by Mayor Walter A. Sims.

Mayor Sims congratulated Alderman Ashley on his enterprise and declared the waterworks a most responsible plan for water rate reductions.

Just how great a reduction can be made was not forecast by Mr. Ashley.

"We want to go over the present schedule and ascertain if it is possible to make any reductions," he said. "The council waterworks committee, with the waterworks company, will have half this afternoon but Alderman Ashley doubted whether he would be prepared at that time to submit a new schedule proposed."

The present water rate, net, is $1 for 500 cubic feet, with a graduating scale in prices for each cubic foot, in excess of 500. The waterworks committee, net rate of $1 for the first 500 cubic feet, the schedule is arranged to have doubled, at least, rates paid by many Atlantans as compared to the old rate.

VATICAN SAYS ARTICLE WAS MISUNDERSTOOD

Rome, January 13.—(AP)—Osservatore Romano, organ of the vatican, published an article today, apparently withdrawing from the position taken in its article yesterday, which criticized the papal government's proposed ecclesiastical reform bill. The paper says it was interpreted as throwing cold water on Premier Mussolini's plans for healing the historic breach between the church and the Italian state has been completely misunderstood, both in letter and spirit.

There is no contention, the paper says today, to affirm that the proposed ecclesiastical reforms "contained no improvement on the ecclesiastical legislation imposed upon the church by anti-clerical liberalism."

The paper denies that it failed to recognize a spirit free from the prejudices of the papalists, including the clerical, bled out of the church and other staples called for. W. R. BELL WILL LEAD
RETAIL DRUGGISTS
REACHES NEW YORK

New York, January 13.—(AP)—Sen.

W. R. Bell, well-known in retail drug circles of the city, was elected president of the Atlanta Retail Druggists' Association at its annual meeting and banquet Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce assembly hall. W. C. Owen was elected vice president and C. V. Hohenstein was reelected executive secretary. L. R. Brewer is retiring president and R. M. McFarland is retiring vice president.

Mr. Hohenstein, in a short talk, stated that the Atlanta Retail Druggists' association, organized July 1, 1924, with 15 stores in its membership, now includes 80 stores, member firms doing the bulk of the retail drug business in the city.

A. R. Clegg, president of the Georgia Pharmaceutical association, urged the druggists to sustain its efforts to sustain the "high standards of professional ethics during the new year."

Sen. Bell, in a short talk, said that the druggists' association, which is the arch enemy of the holy see, has been completely misunderstood, both in letter and spirit.

Pikeville, Ky., January 13.—(AP)—John W. Langley has left his beloved mountains, practically penniless, he said, after a public career of more than 43 years, the last 18 as congressman.

He did not announce his destination, but he was accompanied by his faithful wife, left the state yesterday, but said he was in waiting for the court order committing him to the Atlanta federal penitentiary for two years, the sentence passed upon him after conviction for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

In a statement in which he referred to his sentence as the final chapter of his political career, Mr. Langley, "to save our home," asked his constituents to elect Mrs. Langley to the seat in congress which he vacated Monday, after the supreme court had refused to consider his case.

He contrasted his long public service with his trial and conviction at Covington, Ky., in "proceedings, the effect of which is to give credence to the oath of a man who is a proven

Masked Raiders Get Jail Terms At Birmingham

Birmingham, Ala., January 13.—(AP)—A verdict of guilty was returned today by Henry J. Martin, in city court, against the two men who last night, in an attempt to rob a Chinese restaurant, were robed and masked men. The following fines and jail sentences were imposed:

W. J. Worthington, $100 and 90 days in jail.

W. V. Israel, $100 and 90 days in jail.

W. D. Haynie, $50 and a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail.

Worthington and Israel are officials in local units of the Ku Klux Klan.

Judge Martin, in his decision read from the bench, declared that, from the evidence, Worthington and Israel had been the leaders and instigators of a raiding party, when "several guests were unlawfully and illegally searched and had induced Harwell to go along, when they actually conducted the raid."

In accordance with statements previously made, the defendants were expected to appeal their cases to the Jefferson county circuit court. The Jefferson county grand jury is also conducting an inquiry into the raids.

The closing session of the Southern Freight Association was held yesterday, with nothing but a report on routing matters being discussed.

The meeting opened Tuesday and was attended by representatives of the association from all parts of the southeast.

The meeting is one of several held during the year when routine business is discussed by members.

ATLANTAN COMPLETES
25 YEARS IN ARMY

New York has failed to impress Sergeant Allen E. Johnson, formerly of 211 Glenwood avenue, Atlanta, as much as his home town, according to experts of the 10th Infantry, to whom he is stationed. In 1917, Johnson joined the army at Wembly, will be issued within the next few days. It is strongly rumored that J. Thomas, the ranking leader and colonial representative of the labor government, will receive the Order of the British Empire, which carries the dignity of the knight of knighthood.

It is expected that Lord Stevenson and other Wembly commissioners will figure in the list.

There has been much comment on the delay in issuing the list, which is said to be partly due to criticism on the alleged mismanagement of the commission, and it is expected the proposed knighting of Mr. Thomas is provoking considerable comment in labor circles. Although a labor leader, Mr. Thomas is a wealthy man.

BRITAIN'S ADVERSE TRADE BALANCE
GROWS STEADILY

London, January 13.—(AP)—Great Britain's adverse trade balance for the year 1925, roughly 395,000,000 pounds, is the greatest in the country's history. The previous record was 341,000,000 pounds in 1924.

One of the chief causes of the import increase is believed to be the rise of British exports, which have fallen 27,000,000 pounds since 1924.

Last year the board of trade estimated the invisible exports at 370,000,000 pounds.

These figures do not take account of invisible exports which will reduce the apparent adverse balance by many millions.

CHARLES W. BRYAN
LIKELY CANDIDATE
AGAIN IN NEBRASKA

Miami, Fla., January 13.—Charles W. Bryan, democratic vice presidential candidate in the last national election, again has aspirations for office. He will be content with his former post as governor of Nebraska.

Although refusing to announce his candidacy, the brother of William Jennings Bryan has promised to return to the Bryan native state within the next few weeks in an attempt to stimulate demand that he enter the August primary.

Under the republican administration in Nebraska, Bryan asserted, taxes had risen 50 per cent, with the result that farmers, labor unions and "even some republican groups" have filed petitions asking him to consider.

SHERIFF INDICTED IN RUN RUNNING PROBE

Cincinnati, January 13.—(AP)—Federal investigation of a "beer ring" alleged to have distilled and sold thousands of barrels of illegal and intoxicating beer in Cincinnati resulted today in grand jury indictments against County Sheriff Richard B. Witt and seven other persons, including officials and employees of the Mohawk brewery here.

George R. Osterfeld, president, and Joseph Osterfeld, vice president, of the brewery company, were among those named in the indictments.

Harry "Butch" Wortham, alleged bootlegger, is charged with having received and distributed the beer to saloons throughout Cincinnati. The other defendants were truck drivers and brewery workers, named as conspirators in the plot. Sheriff Witt, the indictment alleged, aided and abetted the beer plot by introducing W. H. Osterfeld to the Osterfelds as a distributing agent. The sheriff denied that he was ever involved in the ring.

District Attorney Matz said he would order Witt to appear for arraignment tomorrow with the other defendants.

FIREMEN'S RAISES ARE HELD VALID

Further delay in payment of increases approximating $35 monthly in salaries of Atlanta firemen was seen Wednesday following announcement of an appeal to high courts, after Judge W. D. Ellis, of the motions division of Fulton county superior court, dissolved an injunction to prevent the new scale from becoming effective.

Attorney Archibald Davis, representing Victor E. Gandy, plaintiff, filed a notice of appeal as soon as Judge Ellis made his ruling.

In holding that all sections of the city ordinance providing for the increases in salaries are valid with the exception of one "obscure and uncertain" paragraph, Judge Ellis ruled in favor of the firemen, who thus scored a victory in the first legal skirmish.

The decision paved the way for operation of the ordinance at once, but City Attorney James L. Mayson had not yet decided whether the increases would be made effective immediately, because if the higher rates were imposed, the adverse firemen would be compelled to repay the increases they drew.

The decision was issued by the express commission in Florida was cleared on December 27, and the situation in the state is now considered normal. William G. Smith, vice president of the American Railway Express, advised the Florida railroad commission today.

The commission followed one set by the commission containing a complaint made by M. H. Walker, editor of the Florida Growers, a periodical, in which the latter requested the railroad commission to seek the consent of the interstate commerce commission in the installation of express service on the Suwanee Special Line, from St. Petersburg, Fla., and Southern, from St. Petersburg and Tampa to Cinelma, via Hampton and Lake City. The present plan of routing through Jacksonville, "is resulting in costly delays and the situation is getting unbearable," Mr. Walker wired.

The express commission in Florida was cleared December 27, the express commission officially. "Our operation there now are functioning normally. The situation complained of no longer exists. Therefore, we believe it is not necessary to place express service on the Suwanee special train."
